

Otto the Octopus
Goes to the Doctorpus
by Mark J. Davis & Will Baten

Otto loves doing everything a young octopus loves to do like skateboarding, riding his seahorse, searching for pirate treasure, ice skating (upside down) and swinging from the sea monkey bars.

He has 7 misadventures and breaks his legs, so he visits the Doctorpus and the Sting-Radiologist who help him get better.

When his casts come off, physical therapy makes him stronger than before, so he can get back to playing tangleball and helping his mom cook minnow-stroni soup.
